Bulletin 7 Volume 28

April 1985

The Spring Business Meeting is scheduled for APRIL 19. We will begin at 7 PM. It will be held at The First National Bank of Chicago, Three First National Plaza. The entrance to this building is on the north side of Madison St., between Clark and Dearborn. Take the escalator up to the 2nd floor and the elevator from there to the 9th floor. This is the same location as we used for the Fall Meeting.

Please try to have a representative from your team at the meeting. Without your presence, we cannot make decisions that reflect your opinions.

One of the items to be discussed involves "split matches." Although our constitution says nothing about split matches, they occur often by agreement between two teams. However, in the rare circumstance (such as occurred this Spring in the Near West Division) that a good night for a match cannot be agreed upon by both teams, and only one team is interested in playing a split match, a clarification may be helpful. Should split matches be encouraged or discouraged?

The 2nd and 3rd rounds of the playoffs will be held on either Saturday May 11 or Saturday May 18. This will also be an item for discussion at the meeting. A definite location has not yet been determined, although I am interested in the excellent site used last year, AMOCO Labs.

My plans for the awards banquet are not yet confirmed. However, I expect it to be held on Friday night June 21. What input do you have concerning the nature of this event?

The following game between Rzeszuto(white) and Cox(black) is submitted for publication as a contender for the $25 game of the year.

1. P-KB4      Bird's Opening. Usually quite tricky and anti-drawish. White probably chose it because a draw in this game would result in loss of match for his team.
P-Q4      The most drawish answer available. This is now a Dutch defense, colors reversed with white up a tempo.
2. N-KB3      N-KB3      Not P-Q5 with a later collapse of the center.
3. P-KN3      P-K3
4. B-N2      P-QB4      White will have a very strong bishop--if he can collapse black's center.
5. Q-Q      N-QB3
6. P-Q3      B-Q3      The game is starting to take shape. The control of the king file will be vital.
7. QN-Q2      An error. White left a hole at K3.
N-KN5      Black seizes the opportunity to gain a tempo and to free his king bishop's pawn.
8. N-QN1      Not N-QN3 which puts the QN out of play.
P-KB4      Produces a Stonewall pawn formation of sorts.
On each move from move 5 through move 13 black offered a draw which white refused. Psychological warfare? White chooses anti-drawish moves consistently, even at the cost of some soundness.
9. P-QB3      White is now a little cramped. Neither of his bishops nor his queen's knight have any scope. His king's knight is powerful. The key squares are K4 and K5.
Q-Q      Black must get his king out of the center because of the soon to be opened king file.
10. R-K1      If P-Q4 we would have an entirely different style game with white occupying his K5 and black soon occupying his own K5.
P-K4      Black must advance on the king file before white does. Unfortunately, this leaves black with a weak pawn at his Q4 which white should have tried to exploit.
11. P-K3      Not P-K4 because of ...KPxKBP destroying white's pawn structure.
Or 11.Q-QN3 N-KN3 12.P-K4 P-QB5 13.QPxQBP N-QR4
14.Q-QB2 NxQBP 15.P-QN3 N-QN3 16.KBPxKP B-QB4 ck holds for black.
12. Q-QB2      N-KB3      To strengthen Q4. Black still fears white's Q-QN3.
13. PxP      K-R1      More pressure on white's K4 by both players.
NxxKP      White can not permit P-K5.
14. NxN      BxN      White trades off his strong knight in hopes of bringing his bishop into play. Black is happy as he now holds the center and white is cramped.
15. N-Q2      B-QB2      Black's unguarded bishop must get off the file containing white's rook before the pawn trades start. Black would like to have continued with ...Q-Q3 ...B-Q2 ...QR-K1 ...N-KN5 but did not have the opportunity.
16. P-K4      R-K1      Black could not capture or his center would be gone.
17. N-KB1      To free his QB. However, this retreat suddenly gives white a lost game.
18. QPxKP      QPxKP      White must now play black's game or lose a pawn.
19. BxP      KBPxKP
B-B4      A novel double pin of white's bishop. White probably expected NxR 20.RxN and black can not play B-KB4. White is becoming somewhat short on time. That is what an unfamiliar opening can do to you. Learn a few variations and stay with them.
20. B-KN5      If N-Q2 then Q-K2 winning the white bishop.
BxB

- 21. RxB. RxB
- 22. BxN Q-K1 And black has won the exchange.
- 23. B-KN5 B-KN3 Stronger was ...P-QB5 24. N-Q2 E-N3ch
- 24. P-QB4 Q-KN3 Black has gained a tempo. If white plays B-B4 black plays RxB followed by RxN.
- 25. B-K3 QR-K1
- 26. Q-KB2 Q-KB3 Attacks the guard of the white bishop. White is very short on time. Black must not--repeat--not play rapidly and cause the game to become a speed game at which white has equal chances. Black must take full time to each move and make each move build further pressure.
- 27. Q-K2 If Q-Q2 then his QBP falls and black's bishop gets into the action Q-K3
- 28. R-Q1 If R-K1 then ...B-QR4 wins more material. Or if K-KB2 then QxQBP
- 29. NxR RxB Why not? Black's bishop holds the mating square. QxNch My uncle told me "When you're up, trade 'em down." Start with the queens and work down, avoiding pawn trades.
- 30. QxQ RxB
- 31. R-Q2 R-K7
- 32. RxQNP P-KR3
- 33. P-QR4 R-QB7 Not ...RXP 34. P-QR5 winning the pinned bishop.
- 34. P-QR5 BxP
- 35. RxQRP B-QN5
- 36. P-QN3 R-QN7
- 37. R-QR8ch K-R2 Both of white's queen side pawns must fall. And white ran out of time. Black wins.

Thank you,
